AGENDA

1) Roll Call

2) Minutes from last General Assembly Meeting

- The minutes from the last General Assembly can be found on the following website:

<https://www.powerlifting-oceania.com/about-napf/general-assembly>

3) President's Report

The Pacific Island region, consisting of numerous small island nations and territories, faces several significant challenges in the sport of powerlifting. These challenges encompass various aspects, including infrastructure, access to resources, and competition opportunities. However, addressing these issues has the potential to yield numerous positive outcomes, not only for the development of powerlifting as sport in the region but also for the overall well-being of the Pacific Island communities in the region.

Challenges Faced by the Pacific Island Region:

- Limited Infrastructure: Many Pacific Island nations lack adequate training facilities and competition venues for powerlifting. This hinders the development of athletes and the organization of competitions.

- Financial Constraints: Financial limitations often prevent athletes and federations from acquiring proper equipment, hiring coaches, and participating in international events, thereby impeding their progress and this includes affiliation membership fees to regional and international parent bodies.

- Access to Coaching and Education: There is a shortage of qualified powerlifting coaches in the Pacific Island region. Athletes struggle to access proper coaching and educational resources, hindering their development.

- Logistical Challenges: The vast distances between islands and the limited transportation options make it difficult for athletes to attend training camps and competitions, causing isolation and reducing exposure to the international powerlifting community.

Positive Outcomes if Challenges are Addressed:

- Improved Athlete Development: Addressing infrastructure and coaching challenges will lead to the development of a stronger pool of powerlifting athletes in the Pacific Islands, potentially producing world-class competitors.
- Increased Participation: Removing financial barriers will enable more athletes to participate in the sport. This will result in a broader talent pool and greater diversity within the sport.
- Regional Unity: Collaborative efforts to address challenges will foster unity among Pacific Island nations, leading to stronger regional ties and cooperation in various aspects of powerlifting development.
- International Representation: With improved resources and support, Pacific Island athletes will have increased opportunities to represent their nations at international competitions, enhancing the region's visibility in the global powerlifting community.

Recommendations:

- Invest in Infrastructure: The ORPF should work with national governments and sports organizations to invest in modern training facilities and competition venues.
- Financial Support: Establish funding programs and grants to assist athletes and federations with equipment procurement and travel expenses for international competitions.
- Coach Development: Collaborate with international powerlifting organizations to provide coaching education programs and certifications in the Pacific Island region.
- Regional Cooperation: Encourage cross-border cooperation among Pacific Island nations for sharing resources, expertise, and hosting regional competitions.

In conclusion, the challenges faced by the Pacific Island region in powerlifting are significant but surmountable. By addressing these challenges, the Oceania Regional Powerlifting Federation can pave the way for a brighter future for the sport in the region, fostering athlete development, regional unity, and improved health outcomes. With the right support and collaboration, the Pacific Islands can become a force to be reckoned with in the world of powerlifting.

4) Treasurer's Report - Auditors' Reports - Approval of Budget

For 2023 the ORPF has made a small profit as shown in the attached balance sheet. This is only because the development fund covered the expenses of the Oceania championships and countries paid their outstanding invoices as per the table below.

In 2024 the projected expenses indicate that the ORPF will run at a loss and will be reliant on the development fund to just break even. If memberships are not paid again the ORPF will run at a loss.

The ORPF uses PayPal which allows us to track when invoices have arrived, reminders have been sent and we are aware of when they have been viewed. Therefore, we can determine if a nation is making a false statement that they have not received their invoice. It is a regular occurrence for incorrect emails to be provided for invoicing which are then followed by numerous requests for invoices to be reissued. This will not occur in 2024, it will be the responsibility of the member nation to provide the correct contact details for invoicing and only a reminder will be issued.

In addition, when payments are made by bank transfer the invoice number must be quoted, several payments have been received with no identifiers whatsoever as to who the payment was made by. This will cause an issue in the next audit as the identity of the payer must be clearly indicated and the invoice number quoted.

Of note:

Tonga paid their 2021 membership into the account that was used for the 2023 Oceania's and not paid as per the invoice requirements. However, as the money was paid to assist in the running of the championships they have been credited as having paid for 2021.

Nouvelle Calédonie have not paid; however, they paid the equivalent in funds to support two of their officials to travel to the 2023 Oceania championships and so have been credited the amount.

The table below outlines the current financial status of all ORPF member nations.

Some of the countries have not provided either current or any contact information.

The ORPF uses PayPal which allows us to track when invoices have arrived, reminders have been sent and we are aware of when they have been viewed. Therefore, we can determine if a nation is making a false statement that they have not received their invoice.

5) Secretary General's Report

As the General Secretary of the Oceania Regional Powerlifting Federation (ORPF), in the realm of sports administration, the role of a General Secretary is pivotal in ensuring the smooth functioning of an organization. I am tasked with numerous responsibilities related to the organization and management of powerlifting events within the Oceania region and this report delves into the multifaceted challenges faced by the General Secretary of the Oceania Regional Powerlifting Federation in organizing meetings, coordinating logistics for competitions, and managing the demanding task of traveling. Having said this, the ORPF represents a diverse region, encounters an array of unique hurdles that warrant a closer examination. Hence, this report aims to provide an overview of the challenges I have encountered in organizing meetings, coordinating logistics for competitions, and managing travel arrangements.

Challenges in Organizing Meetings

- Geographical Spread: One of the foremost challenges in organizing meetings within the ORPF is the vast geographical spread of our member countries. Oceania covers a vast expanse of the Pacific Ocean, which results in significant time zone differences and logistical difficulties when arranging virtual or in-person meetings.
- Diverse Cultural Norms: Our member countries span a diverse range of cultures, languages, and traditions. This diversity can pose challenges in communication, understanding, and decision-making during meetings.
- Budget Constraints: Securing funding for meetings, especially when they require international travel, can be a challenging endeavor. Our federation often relies on sponsorships and member contributions, which may not always be readily available.
- Scheduling Conflicts: Coordinating schedules among executive members and representatives from various countries can be complicated. Differences in work schedules, public holidays, and other commitments often lead to scheduling conflicts.
- Technology Barriers: Some member countries have limited access to advanced technology and internet connectivity. This can hinder the effectiveness of virtual meetings and make communication difficult.
- Stakeholder Engagement: The General Secretary must engage a diverse group of stakeholders, including member nations, athletes, coaches, and officials. Maintaining open channels of communication and addressing the varied concerns and expectations of these stakeholders poses a constant challenge. Achieving consensus on important decisions and maintaining transparency is essential for the federation's credibility and effectiveness.

Challenges in Organizing Logistics for Competitions

- Venue Selection: Identifying suitable venues for powerlifting competitions is a complex task. Factors like accessibility, safety, and adherence to international standards must be carefully considered.
- Equipment Transport: Transporting powerlifting equipment across countries and regions can be expensive and logistically challenging. Ensuring that equipment is in good condition and arrives on time is crucial for the success of competitions.
- Regulatory Compliance: Compliance with local and international regulations, including doping control and safety measures, requires thorough planning and coordination with relevant authorities.
- Volunteer Coordination: Recruiting and coordinating volunteers for events can be time-consuming. Training and ensuring the availability of volunteers who are familiar with powerlifting rules and procedures is essential.
- Accommodation and Catering: Securing suitable accommodation and catering services for athletes, officials, and spectators can be costly and may vary greatly from one location to another.
- Budget Constraints: Powerlifting competitions require substantial financial resources for venues, equipment, accommodations, and travel expenses. The General Secretary faces the perpetual challenge of securing adequate funding and managing the federation's budget effectively. Balancing the allocation of resources among different aspects of competition logistics is crucial to ensure that competition is both high-quality and financially sustainable.

Challenges in Travel Arrangements

- International Travel: The nature of the role often demands extensive international travel to attend meetings, oversee competitions, and represent the federation at global events. This continuous travel schedule can lead to physical and mental fatigue, affecting the General Secretary's ability to fulfill their responsibilities effectively. Additionally, the current global climate, with its unpredictability due to health crises, further complicates international travel plans.

OCEANIA REGIONAL POWERLIFTING FEDERATION

- Visa and Immigration Issues: Athletes, officials, and delegates from member countries often face visa and immigration challenges when traveling to compete or attend meetings. Ensuring a smooth visa application process can be demanding.
- Flight Bookings: Coordinating international flights for athletes and officials while considering budget constraints and availability of direct routes can be a logistical headache.
- Language Barriers: Dealing with language barriers when organizing travel arrangements for diverse groups of people can lead to misunderstandings and complications.

In Summary

The role of the General Secretary of the Oceania Regional Powerlifting Federation involves overcoming a multitude of challenges related to organizing meetings, coordinating logistics for competitions, and managing travel arrangements. These challenges are further compounded by the vast geographical spread, cultural diversity, and budget constraints within our region. However, through effective communication, collaboration, and strategic planning, we continue to work towards the successful promotion of powerlifting in Oceania. The determination and dedication of our federation's members and partners remain essential in addressing these challenges and achieving our goals. However, by understanding these challenges and developing effective strategies to address them, the General Secretary can contribute significantly to the growth and success of the federation, fostering a thriving powerlifting community in the Oceania region. This report aims to shed light on these challenges and provide a foundation for ongoing improvement and adaptation in the face of evolving circumstances.

6) Committee Reports

Technical Committee Report

ORPF Technical Report 2023

2023 is the year we have seen the return of international competition in the Pacific for the first time since 2019 following the Pandemic. The Pandemic had our borders with our region closed for much longer than the rest of the world, and even more so this will likely affect travel costs for our nations and funding opportunities for the near future, we are hoping for a successful Pacific Games in November to renew national support for Powerlifting within our member nations. In April 2023 the Oceania Regional Powerlifting Championships were held in Niue - delayed from the planned 2022 event. It was a small but successful international event, with about 80 lifters from 4 nations represented, and referees from 3 others. This event was made possible by the great organizing by the Niue Powerlifting family hosting their first ever International Powerlifting event, and the incredible support for the event shown by the Nauru Powerlifting family, more than 80% of the lifters being from Nauru, and they even organized a charter flight making access to the event possible for not just their team but all the other teams, as well as the Referees. Thank you again to our Referees who traveled to make this event possible. As before, we continue to have issues regarding our lack of international referees within our region - for the Pacific Games so many referees are once again being flown from all around the world - however we are optimistically excited for the future as we will see 6 new examinees from 3 nations sit International Referee exams at the Pacific Games. Let me stress that we still have a long way to go regarding referees in our region before we can become self-sufficient. Referee training and understanding of the rules MUST be a major priority within our nations. We are currently meeting for the Pacific Games in Solomon Islands, and are expecting about 100 lifters over 2 days, and are very excited to see the opportunities that it brings to all of our member nations in our Pacific family!

7. 103.2.7 Participation fee for each nominated lifter. AUD $100

An annual membership fee as stipulated above in 103.2.1 must be paid by the member federations prior to the General Assembly each year to have voting rights at the General Assembly of that particular year. Which is also subject to discount for maintaining international referees.

The ORPF shall be responsible for providing all necessary medals, 1st 2nd and 3rd for all competing categories and classes (refer to 104.4 for medals or certificates for individual lifts). The category and class medals are to be ordered by the Treasurer at least three months prior to the championships.

Furthermore, the maximum banquet fee is AUD $60 for each lifter and official, which participates at the banquet. The fee charged shall reflect the actual cost level in the hosting country.

Why:

We are losing a lot of money, basically AUD$50 per lifter due to variations in exchange rates and the fact that the IPF has raised the cost and can do so at a general assembly. There is a long lag time before the change flows through to the ORPF general assembly. By having it linked to the IPF general assembly this change should fix that.

Reminder to National Federations

Note 105.13 will remain and be enforced.

105.13 Including a Referee in National Teams, Fine, Restriction

Any nation, being a member of IPF more than 5 years, participating with more than 3 lifters in an ORPF competition, as nominated at the final entry form must include at least one international referee among its team officials available for refereeing or being a member of the jury at least two days. The host federation can nominate six referees. If a referee from that nation is not present or, if present, is not available to act in the capacity of either referee or member for jury at least two days during the competition, the lifters are allowed to take part, but a fine of AUD $250 must be paid by the nation (If the member nation has no current international category referees listed by the IPF the fine shall not apply.). The ORPF treasurer must receive such payment before lifters from that nation are allowed to take part in the ORPF competition. This payment shall be allocated to the Sport Development fund to further fund Referee development programs.

105.13.1 Each national federation must specify on the nomination form the weight categories in which their referees are available for refereeing. After the final nomination date, the ORPF Technical Committee Chairman issues a referee list for the entire competition schedule. Any changes of a referee's duty may be reported to the Technical Committee Chairman until 14 days prior to the competition. After that date the referees cannot expect to officiate in other duties than specified on the referees' duty list.

105.13.2 Referee duties, specified by the Technical Committee, are mandatory 14 days prior to the technical meeting. However, federations may allocate duties between their own referees upon agreement by the Technical Committee Chairman. Any changes, withdrawal or no show up by a referee regarding the allocated duty after the technical meeting, may impose a warning or AUD $100 fine dependant of the reason and decided by the jury in cooperation with the Technical Committee Chairman.
